Experience Sensational South Australia at The Long Lunch

Auction Catalogue

From the Principal

As we embark upon another Foundation Long Lunch within our beautiful School grounds, the strength of our community and our shared values of courage, creativity and compassion are palpable.

It is timely to reflect on how the evolution of our learning spaces and resources has been made possible by the ongoing generosity and support of Old Scholars, current and former parents, staff members past and present, and friends of the St Peter's Girls' community.

Most of us are here today because you or someone you cherish has flourished thanks to a Saints Girls' education. Every contribution makes a difference for the learners of today and tomorrow.

Thank you kindly for your community spirit and generous support.

Julia Shea

Welcome

Welcome to our third St Peter's Girls' Foundation Long Lunch, featuring sensational South Australian produce, beer, wine, auction items and entertainment set in our stunning surrounds here at Stonyfell.

Thanks to the generosity of our sponsors, suppliers and community members, the proceeds from today's fundraiser will help fund the next phase of our Master Plan.

It has been an absolute pleasure to again work with our amazing community members, staff and volunteers to make this day a reality.

Throughout this catalogue, you will find a fantastic range of auction items donated by individuals and businesses from our incredible community.

We encourage you to mention St Peter's Girls' School when you purchase goods and services from these supporters, and share their merits within your own networks.

The funds we raise today will directly benefit our girls now and into the future.

I thank you all for your support in helping us achieve our vision to inspire women of character and influence.

Introducing Paul Baker

Community members Paul Baker and Annabelle Baker (nee Curtis, Selwyn 2003) are current parents of ELC student Margot Baker.

Paul, today's Master of Ceremonies, is a former Advertiser Chef of the Year who started his career at Matt Moran's Aria Sydney. More recently, Paul's time at the helm of the Botanic Gardens Restaurant attracted praise from the likes of John Lethlean ("outstanding cooking and produce") and Matt Preston ("finessed contemporary food").

Paul championed ethical and sustainable primary producers, and his daily foraging of the gardens was unique, stimulating food tourism in South Australia.

In the current global climate, Paul has cultivated two successful projects: Chefs on Wheels and Paul's Pasta Project.

Dreamt up by Paul's wife Annabelle and in partnership with their friend Jimmy Day, Chefs on Wheels offers home-delivered, ready-to-cook meals from some of SA's most highly regarded restaurants such as Soi38 and Emma McCaskill from Sparkke at the Whitmore.

Paul's Pasta Project was launched to showcase small South Australian producers by making small batch filled pasta in his newly acquired pasta factory. We are very fortunate to have Paul with us today to share his talent and expertise, not only in the kitchen but as our MC.

All of the girls from Reception to Year 12 were invited to add a pattern to this collaborative piece. The Year 6 Visual Arts leaders painted the flora in this artwork, taking inspiration from Australian contemporary artist Carley Bourne.

This piece is heavily based on Australian scenery, with the use of colour being a predominant feature, the many unique marks forming abstract impressions, celebrating the beauty of the Australian landscape and flora. This piece has been created with acrylic paint and paint texas and has been professionally framed using a simple wood floating frame.
